THE BABE RUTH GLOVE

No. G41. This is the Glove that "Babe" Ruth uses. It is made on as near a standard pattern as a Glove can be. Medium length fingers, quite large in the hand, fairly well padded, with a light palm. A Glove without exaggeration in its construction and perhaps the most popular model in the game. Made of cremore horsehide, both outside and lining. Look at the men who use it and then decide for yourself. Price $6.50

AND THESE MEN LIKE AND USE THE "BABE RUTH" GLOVE

No. G41. Blacholder, Combs, Cooper, Dugan, Flagstead, M. Gaston, Geygan, Ernie Johnson, Karr, Kolp, Lamar, Lansing, Leonard, Luque, Meecker, Hack Miller, C. Mitchell, Mogan, Rich Richbourg, Ross, Ruth, Schultz, Shorten, Stutz, Thurston, Traynor, Warmoth, Whaley, Woehrs and Zahniser.

No. G41B. Ehnke, Ellerbe, Gerber, McManus, McMillan, Menosky and Veach.

No. G41. The "Babe Ruth" Glove, and it is the Glove he uses. It is made on as near a standard pattern as a Glove can be, without exaggeration in the make-up. Medium length fingers, quite wide in the hand, fairly well padded with a light palm. Made of cremore horsehide, both outside and lining. It is just a good, standard Glove, and one which will give satisfaction in almost any position. Look at the men who use it. They are its guarantee. Price $6.50

The Babe endorsed Draper Maynard gloves, specifically the G41, from 1921 to 1927. He didn't only endorse them, he actually used white G41's during the most productive years of his career. The G41 model is one of the most desirable models in the hobby. The signature stamping on this example is strong. Supple leather throughout and a near perfect lining is as good as it gets. It feels great on the hand. Furthermore, both the D&M button and the Lucky Dog patch are in outstanding condition. This is a tough and desirable glove in any condition and this is one the nicer examples.....$4,500

c. 1914 Heinie Wagner Stall & Dean 0953

This is an incredibly rare glove. It's the only Wagner model cataloged. This one is in fantastic shape with the lining and piping expertly redone. It features strip webs between all the fingers and an immaculate Stall & Dean cloth tag. One strip web between the pinky and ring finger is disconnected. It was one of Stall & Dean's highest quality models in 1914. Truly a wonderful glove.....$2,200

Spalding
First Basemen's
Mitt

Highest quality material and workmanship and adapts itself to the conformation of the hand without any necessity for breaking in. The only really correct first basemen's mitt. Made of fine selected and specially tanned calfskin, extremely well made throughout, leather lined and padded to meet the special requirements of a baseman's mitt; rawhide lacing all around, double row of stitching on heel pad. Strap-and-buckle fastening at back.

No. BX. Each, $4.00

No. CX
First Basemen's
Mitt

Fine quality and finish; made on same lines as No. BX Mitt; face of specially tanned drab leather; back of firm tanned brown leather, extra well padded at wrist and thumb; laced all around. Strap-and-buckle fastening at back.

No. CX. Each, $2.00

Early 1900's Spalding Crescent Basemitt

This is an early 1900's Spalding crescent basemitt. This high quality model features rolled leather piping. It has the early black Spalding tag. The buckle is all original and is factory fastened by rivets. The inside lining has no holes. It has no ink or seam separations but the pocket exhibits minor flaking. Although no stampings are visible, it matches most closely to the BX or CX models because the other models feature a thumb seam on the face. The BX and CX do not. It's in all original used but not abused condition. This is a fine example of a high end early mitt.....$650

Tris Speaker

1920's Tris Speaker Stall & Dean 0945 Speed Model

A 1" black sewn web Stall & Dean Tris Speaker Speed 0945 model with amazingly strong palm stampings. Featuring the Tris Speaker signature and his likeness, the stampings remain remarkably clean and clear for a Speed model. Stall & Dean's leather for these is butter-soft and the impact of the ball striking the palm quickly reduced the markings to smooth leather, making this a very rare find in this condition. Measuring 9" x 9", this glove is beautiful inside and out, with a fully intact, smooth lining through the finger stalls, and an excellent Stall & Dean cloth patch. For the HOF endorsement collector, it doesn't get much better. This is one of if not the finest Speaker examples known to the hobby, and sits among the finest quality stampings of any rare player endorsed gloves.....$1,750

1910's/20's Eddie Collins 1 Inch Web

This is an earlier Eddie Collins 1" web. Most Collins models are mid to late 1920's. This is the second best Collins model in my opinion behind the white Reach full web. As far as the collectability of pre-war HOF's go, there are the top five (Cobb, Ruth, Matty, Johnson & Wagner) and then the next two, the Speaker and the Collins. This one is soft inside and out and displays just fine. The endorsement stamp is quite legible. The inner lining has its flaws however. The lining at the heel is worn and a bit separated at the base as seen in the fourth picture. It has a seam separation on the top of the thumb crotch. This is an overall very decent example of a highly desirable pre-war HOF and affordable as far as endorsed 1" webs are concerned.....$395

Late 19th Century Webless Crescent Glove

Nice example of a 19th century webless crescent glove that displays well. Professionally restored lining and binding as well as some repair of the leather on the front pinky heel. This adult-sized model has supple leather and displays well with a great patina. There is no visible identification as to its manufacturer.....$2,500

Late 1900's/Early 1900's Webless Crescent Glove

This is a generic webless, crescent padded glove with no visible manufacturer markings. The glove measures 8.5" tall and 8" wide. It has some writing on the back in ink (Malek). Interior is felt or asbestos lined with no holes. The exterior is in excellent condition but does have some rust colored stains on the fingers.....$2,200

Late 1890's A.J. Reach Webless Glove

This is a rare 1890's A.J. Reach webless glove. Originally white leather, the glove has now aged to a light grey color. The glove is of high quality, sturdy construction and is in fantastic original condition, one of the finest examples out there. The exterior leather is soft and supple and retains much of its factory form. The fully lined wool interior is flawless as is the rolled leather binding. The Reach cloth patch is pristine. Some markings on the face indicate this may be model 0. It is a full size glove for its day at 9 1/4" tall and 8 1/2" wide. An adult hand fits easily inside for a great on hand feel.....$5,600

Zip! and each of these gloves is open for inner greasing

INNER GREASING QUICK AND EASY

Note how glove has been opened at the heel, permitting easy access for inner greasing

This Exclusive Wilson Feature makes it possible for you to quickly and easily grease your glove or mitt in exactly the same way professionals grease theirs before breaking them in. Swiftly slide the hookless fastener open, place the desired quantity of vaseline inside the glove at the pocket and slide the fastener shut. The grease works its way outward through the leather and inward through the pad at the pocket, softening you to set pocket in just the way you prefer it, and, due to the rubberized covering over the heel padding which prevents the grease from spreading into the heel, the grease stays in the pocket area.

“Professional players prefer to grease their gloves themselves and do it by opening the gloves up and greasing the pockets only on the inside. Greasing the entire glove, they say, adds to the weight due to the absorption of the grease by the pad and is unnecessary in that the pocket only benefits by greasing.”

“Wilson Ever Greased Rite gloves and mitts are built with a rubberized covering over the palm side of the pad at the heel, preventing the grease from the pocket being absorbed in the heel padding.”

1933-35 Wilson-Western Ever Greased Rite 654 Zipper Heel

This is an incredibly rare model and is pretty cool to boot. Produced for just three years from 1933 to 35, the Ever Greased Rite model zipper heel was designed to grease the glove from the inside with Vaseline. All the stampings are visible. The inner lining is fantastic and feels great on the hand. This high quality model has no flaws to note. Only one other Ever Greased Rite glove and one catchers mitt cataloged.....$900

Early 1900's A.J. Reach Crescent Glove

Nice example of an early 20th century crescent glove in fantastic condition. It's a high quality adult glove measuring 9.5" tall by 8.5" wide. It has supple leather on the exterior, a flawless asbestos lined interior and a nice A.J. Reach tag. This glove has no real flaws to note. Nice glove.....$1,400

c. 1900 Folk Art Mitt

A turn of the century folk art mitt in stellar original condition. The different types of leather used and the variety of thread, twine and shoelace is really fascinating. The ingenuity and painstaking hand sewn craftsmanship is equally amazing. The leather is still soft and supple, just like going back in a time machine. The forming of the rudimentary pocket and integrated thumb to body is really cool. Although the mitt measures a decent size at 9" tall and 8" wide, because of the construction method, the hand opening is so narrow that you can't fit your hand inside.....$375

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, CHARLES M. KING, a citizen of the United States, residing at Washington, in the District of Columbia, have invented a new and useful Improvement in Base-Ball Gloves, of which the following is a specification.

My invention relates to base ball gloves, and pertains more particularly to the arrangement and structure of the padding for same and to the means for separably assembling and uniting the inner and outer parts of the glove.

The object of my invention is to produce a base ball finger glove comprising an outer cover and an inner lining nesting therein, between the palm portions of which the padding materials may be carried, adapted to be separably united at the adjacent edges of the wrist and back portions, whereby the lining may be removed from the glove, and access had to the interior thereof for adjustment and repair.

1910's Spalding King Patent Full Web

This is a Spalding King Patent. However, this one has one of the more difficult full webs. I have only cataloged one other Spalding full web. The original design for this model was patented in 1910 by Charles King. The exterior leather is fine and supple but the interior has one hole visible in the center. The finger tunnels up inside are fine. It actually feels fine when on the hand. It measures 9 1/2" tall by 8" wide. This early model features a red and white Spalding tag. Not perfect, but not a bad example of this tougher full web King Patent model.....$395

1920's Matsuzakaya Win King Patent

This is a Japanese 1920's Matsuzakaya Win King Patent glove. It's stamped Win Glove on the front. It's an early import. It's a nicely constructed glove with rolled leather piping and a manufacturer's tag on the wrist strap. The stampings are all visible as well. The lining is fine and feels nice on the hand although it's a bit snug. It's all original and has never been cleaned or conditioned. It measures about 9 3/4" tall and 9" wide. I have seen two or three different Japanese King Patent manufacturers. This is a nice example of a different King Patent.....$395

Pair of 1910's Goldsmith Full Webs With Celluloid Buttons

What is unique about these gloves are the matching celluloid button closures on the wrist straps. Both Goldsmith tags are in fair shape. The exterior leather on the right handed glove is in excellent condition, however there is a hole in the thumb finger slot. The full web is firmly attached. The leather on the lefty is in very good condition with the exception of the owner's name burned neatly on the back. The full web is firmly attached. The interior leather is in excellent condition. Sold as a set.....$750

c. 1912 Ratsch Peerless Duk Fut D300T (Duck Web) Glove

This duck web glove was affectionately referred to by "Mr. Bulldog" as the one with its wings clipped. It's missing the webs between the fingers but still retains the highly desirable Ratsch Peerless celluloid button. It's a high quality model with rolled leather piping. The lining isn't perfect but not bad either.....$2,500

Late 1890's/Early 1900's Laced Back Catchers Mitt

This is an early hook & eye back or laced back catchers mitt in truly beautiful condition. It's a mid-sized model but an adult hand fits in it just fine and the lining is absolutely perfect with a nice feel. This laceless perimeter model shows little use and the only real flaw is the missing hook or eyelet on the back for the lace to cinch. The web lace has been replaced. Obtained from the late Glenn Davis collection in the 90's.....$350

Early 1900 's Victor Crescent Catchers Mitt

This is an early turn of the century Victor crescent padded catchers mitt with a lot of great features. It has a reinforced palm, laced heel, and hook & eye back. However, the most unique feature is the double buckles on each side of the web. This feature and the laced heel were Victor patented designs of the mid 1890's. This is a large adult sized mitt. The leather exhibits minor flaking just a bit off the thumb area. It's a solid mitt all-around and a top of the line model with all the upgrades.....$1,000

The Rawlings "Bill Doak" Glove

On every Major or Minor League Ball Club you will find the Rawlings Bill Doak Glove in use by the players who are the most particular and exacting in their requirements. They have singled out the Doak Glove for their approval, because it possesses those qualities which are necessary to the success of their respective positions, whether outfielder, infielder or pitcher.

No other style or model of glove has met with the universal approval of so many players of various positions, and the reasons are:

First: The Model is original and distinct from any heretofore produced and is found to be scientifically correct.

Second: It is ready for use the day you receive it, and needs no breaking in.

Third: It is large, roomy, soft, flexible, and well fitting.

Fourth: It is made of the finest materials and workmanship throughout.

Fifth: Will outwear other makes of high-grade gloves, owing to the superior quality and the Glovolum treatment of the leather.

Made on a large pattern, laced between thumb and forefinger, forming a deep pocket for the ball. Well padded in large, little finger and thumb and at wrist. Roll Leather bound and welted seams.

No emphasis we might lay upon the unusual elements of value incorporated in this glove can compare with the enthusiastic recognition they are receiving everywhere.

For sale by the leading Sporting Goods Dealers all over the country. If you have never used the Rawlings Bill Doak Glove, and would care to try it, we will be pleased to have your order together with remittance, and if after you have given it a thorough trial, find it unsatisfactory, return it at our expense, and we will refund the purchase price.

Beware of Imitations and the "Just as good kind." Be sure "Bill Doak's" name and Rawlings trade mark appear on the one you buy. c. 1922-30 Bill Doak Rawlings Original

This is one of the most important glove models of all time. Bill Doak went to Rawlings in 1922 to make improvements in glove design more for function than for protection. It was revolutionary in its design. We in the hobby refer to this one as the "Doak Original" and this model was made until 1930. This example has no equal in the hobby. It's pristine and looks like it never caught a ball. It features perfect Bill Doak and Rawlings tags on the wrist strap, a Rawlings incised button and a near perfect white lining.....$2,500

DOAK MODEL 3F
THREE FINGER

PREFERRED by many players who want extra protection for the third and small finger, when fielding fast, hard drives. The added strength and protection lessens chances for errors. This model, with the exception of the combination third and small finger is built on the Regular Doak five finger pattern Each $8.50

There is only one Doak Glove, and it is made by Rawlings.

c. 1933-34 Bill Doak Rawlings 3F

Produced for only two years, 1933 and '34, this is the first generation of the Doak three finger. Its successor was the H3. This is a nice example featuring the older Rawlings tag. It has been expertly relined and repiped. The stampings are faint. You can make out the Bill Doak endorsement but you can't make out the model number. It's a high quality big adult model.....$700

MODEL

Preferred by many players who want extra protection for the third and small finger. The added protection lessens chances for errors when fielding fast, hard drives. This model, with the exception of the combination fingers, is built the same as Model H Doak. (See description above.) Full oiled.

Each $8.50

Also furnished with Inner Greased pocket to special order.

MODEL H3
THREE-FINGER MODEL

Preferred by players who want extra protection for the third and small finger. The added protection lessens chances for errors when fielding fast, hard drives.

c. 1935-41 Bill Doak Rawlings H3

Produced from 1935-41, this is the second generation of the Doak three finger. Its predecessor was the 3F. Not a lot of Doak 3's have turned up over the years. This is a fine example featuring both the Bill Doak and Rawlings tags. It's a high quality big adult model with leather piping and is in all original condition.....$1,200
