

"This glove fits so well it feels like a part of my hand," said Ted

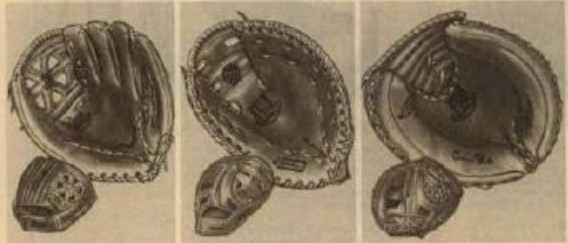

That's because we used the finest, most flexible top-grain leather both inside and out, then put in the features Ted Williams specifically asked for: "An extra-big pocket . . . that's important in a fielder's glove. And lace the heel at the sides for a snug fit." $15<sup>50</sup>

Ted Williams Personal Model. Ted's checked every detail to give you a glove that fits comfortably yet can be slipped on and off fast . . . a glove that cuts down the possibility of error. He asked for an extra-big gusseted pocket that extends up into the trap. You've got the ball if it bounces in the trap or the pocket. And the flex-action hinge makes sure of it. Spiral lacing forms a retaining bead that cups the trap . . . helps when scooping up grounders. First, laced-down padding in heel, thumb and little finger. Four adjustable inside loops for thumb and little finger. Laced lacing. Adjustable padded wrist strap. Made of finest top-grain leather—even the lining is No. 1 selected corkstone cowhide. Nylon sewn for lasting good fit.

"This new wheel-spoke trap holds on to the ball like a second pocket," said Ted $11.50

"Covering first base takes a special mitt like this one with deep scoop pocket," said Ted $12.50

"For catching, you want a big glove with plenty of firm padding," said Ted $12.50

Ted Williams Fielder's Glove. Rings in three high ties you have to stretch for. And the big pre-sized grouse set pocket stops the hottest smashes. The snap-shot flex-action hinge nabs the ball for sure outs. Check the features: skip lacing on thumb, palm, finger; double loop adjuster on thumb and little finger. Padded adjustable wrist strap.

Cut from selected No. 1 corkstone cowhide and lined with corkstone cowhide. Finger-tilt lacing.

Ted Williams First Baseman's. It takes a real pro-type mitt to handle the wild toms that come in at first. That's why the pocket extends right up into the trap. Rawhide spiral lacing reinforces trap top . . . helps to scoop up those low loopers. Grouse set pocket. Padded first finger cushion, reinforced thumb. Individual finger stalls. Flex-action hinge. Selected corkstone cowhide. Full corkstone cowhide lining.
